Attention John Rushton

Dear John,

Thank you for introducing CastStone to Soudis's "T Rex"

This product has revolutionized how we work. We can now glue stainless steel or painted components to WET concrete even after we have just hosed it down. T Rex's fast grab action is truly amazing.

A process that has taken us 2 days to complete can now be done in 15 minutes.

It looks like silicon and cures like silicon but its properties are far superior to anything we have ever used.

We sometimes need to remove items we have glued together and this is not an issue as T Rex cures as a soft (clear in our case) compound that is easily cut.

We continue to find new ways to use this product cutting production times and increasing profitability. We highly recommend "T Rex", thank you for introducing us to this wonderful product.
